Two new directors elected at ACEC Annual Meeting

The Allamakee-Clayton Electric Cooperative members elected two newcomers and one incumbent to its Board of Directors following the 88th Annual Meeting on Monday, Sept. 14.

In District A, Cindy Heffern, Harpers Ferry, was the lone incumbent elected. She has been a member of the ACEC board since 2017. Also in District A, Dan Byrnes, Waukon, received the second most votes, earning a spot on the board. Kerry Troendle, Waukon, was also on the ballot in District A. Michael Gibbs, Waterville, chose not to seek re-election this year after 18 years on the ACEC Board.

In District C, Peggy Connor, Farmersburg, defeated incumbent Greg Formanek, also of Farmersburg. Formanek had been on the board since 2021.

The Board will select its officers at its Monday, Sept. 28, regular monthly meeting.

The 88th Annual Meeting was held in a drive-through format. The Co-op welcomed 276 vehicles during the meeting and served nearly 500 meals. Members were allowed to vote at the meeting or could mail their ballots ahead of time. The Board of Directors and employees thank all members who voted for their board representatives and attended the drive-through.
