ACEC members invited to 87th Annual Meeting Drive-Through September 8

POSTVILLE – Allamakee-Clayton Electric Cooperative (ACEC) will hold its 87th Annual Meeting Monday, September 8, from 1:30-6:30 p.m. at the Postville headquarters, 229 Highway 51, Postville. The meeting will be held in a drive-through format.

The Board of Directors and employees invite all Co-op members to participate in the Annual Meeting. Each member will have the opportunity to vote, receive a complimentary gift and take home a hot to-go meal, while supplies last. Please enter through the south driveway, where a board member will greet and direct participants. ACEC staff and board members will guide members into the garage to vote and receive their gift.

Cooperative members received their ballots in their Annual Report, mailed in mid-August. Those who didn't receive their Annual Report are asked to contact the Co-op office at 563-864-7611. Members can vote by mail, drop it off at the office or in the drop box in the south driveway or during the Annual Meeting drive-through. All mailed ballots must be received at the Co-op before September 8, 2025.

Candidates for the Board are:

District A – Eaton Cote; Brice Wood, incumbent

District B – John Bruihler; Ronald Hartman; Al Steffens, incumbent

The Board of Directors will elect board officer positions during their September board meeting.

In addition to voting for the Board candidates, members are asked to vote on two proposed additions to the Articles of Incorporation. One change asks for a board size to consist of no less than 7 and no more than 10 directors. The other change asks to allow for electronic voting as an alternative voting method.
